Striving for freedom

by: Mariyam Neela

Rights Infringed,
Restricted to live,
Unable to speak,
Restricted to move.

Tortured mind,
Striving for freedom.
Impaired hearts,
Tears shed in silence dry out,
Dare not to be discovered.

Just like a lonely rose bush,
In a tiny garden,
Covered by thorns.
Tormented by the blowing wind,
Cut off by sharp blades, every now and then.
Petals spread along the ground,
The unaware removed by day,
Placed in darkness.

Crushed souls,
Left out in captivity,
With no mercy.
Humanity at its flaw.
"Remove these handcuffs,
Untie these feet.
Let me gain freedom."

The only desire they long for.
The only words,
Emerging Out of their prayers.

This could worsen,
Happen to you,
Your child or friend,
If not rescued from Human Trafficking.

- As article 33 of the Police Act affords detainees medical attention, take immediate action against the Police Officers who neglected providing medical attention to the injured among those detained following the unrest in Addu City on 8th February 2012 (even when they requested medical aid) and establish a system that ensures and affords the detainees the required medical attention as stated in the Police Act.
- As the Maldivian constitution ensures that household/private properties are inviolable and as children and elderly people are afforded special protection under the constitution, to immediately investigate and take immediate action against the law enforcement Officers whose conduct was in violation of the afore mentioned rights during their operations to search for the suspected perpetrators of the incidents on 8th February 2012 and to take necessary action to ensure that such incidents do not repeat.
- As Article 57 of the Constitution states that everyone deprived of liberty through arrest or detention as provided by the law, pursuant to an order of the court, or being held in State care for social reasons, shall be treated with humanity and with respect for the human dignity of the person, to take necessary action against those who have violated these principles – in order to end/deter degrading treatment to/towards the personal and human dignity of people arrested and detained
- Conduct trainings for law enforcement officials on observing human rights ethics (refrain from brutal, inhumane treatment) during arrest, investigations and during various stages of detention while dealing with detainees or prisoners
- As article 237 of the constitution states that the security services shall protect the nation's sovereignty, maintain its territorial integrity, defend the constitution and democratic institutions, maintain and enforce law and order, and render assistance in emergencies; the dissent in Addu City on 8th February 2012 escalated without being controlled and caused irrevocable damages; To take effective measures to ensure that similar incidents do not repeat in the future and investigate this incident and take the necessary legal action if the police are found to be negligent.

Maldives National Defense Force

- As article 237 of the constitution states that the security services shall protect the nation's sovereignty, maintain its territorial integrity, defend the constitution and democratic institutions, maintain and enforce law and order, and render assistance in emergencies; the dissent in Addu City on 8th February 2012 escalated without being controlled and caused irrevocable damages;
To take effective measures to ensure that similar incidents do not repeat in the future and investigate this incident and take the necessary legal action if the defense force is found to be negligent.

Department of Judicial Administration

- Upgrade the security of the judicial courts with modern technology and establish a 24 hours security maintenance systems in the courts
- Establish a network to record and document the work done by the courts

Maldives Broadcasting Commission

- Take legal action against the media outlets that broadcast news in a manner that incites fear and hatred in public and damage to state and private property. In addition, urge and ensure that the media is responsible and fair when broadcasting news.

Recommendations by HRCM in the report released following the incidents of February 8th, 2012

Maldives Police Service

- To immediately Investigate and take legal action against the Police Officers who carried out brutal, inhumane and degrading treatment and punishment that are in direct violation of the Maldivian Constitution, the Police Act and in violation of the rights afforded by the international conventions that the Maldives is party to, against those arrested following the incidents of 8th February 2012 in Addu City.
- As article 33 of the Police Act affords detainees medical attention, take immediate action against the Police Officers who neglected providing medical attention to the injured among those detained following the unrest in Addu City on 8th February 2012 (even when they requested medical aid) and establish a system that ensures and affords the detainees the required medical attention as stated in the Police Act.
